MEDICAL.

The Old Reliable Family Medicine!

Has been introduced and sold

FOR THIRTY-ONE YEARS!

FROM

1840. TO 1871.

Perry Davis' Pain Killer.

Has been tested in every variety of climate, and in every variety of season.

It is the most constant companion, and inestimable friend of the missionary,

and the traveler on sea and land, and no one should travel on our LAKES or RIVERS without it.

Pain Killer was the first, and is the only permanent pain reliever.

Since the PAIN KILLER was first introduced, and met with such unparalleled success, many LUMBAGS, RHEUMATISMS, and other REMEDIES have been offered to the public, but not one of them has ever attained the truly enviable standing of the PAIN KILLER.

Why is this so?

It is because PAIN KILLER is what it claims to be, a Reliever of Pain.

ITS VARIOUS EFFECTS.

If you are suffering from Internal Pain,

Twenty or Thirty drops in a little water will instantly cure you. There is nothing to fear. It is a safe remedy, and will cure all kinds of Pain, whether it be in the head, chest, stomach, or elsewhere.

It will cure all kinds of Pain, whether it be in the head, chest, stomach, or elsewhere.

It will cure all kinds of Pain, whether it

YOUR NICE, SIR? What is her name?

"Verley."

"Oh, yes, sir? She has been here these two hours, bless her heart! She's asleep now."

"Asleep?" gasped Mr. Verley.

But the stewardess only answered him by bustling into the inner department and bringing out what appeared to be a compact bundle, with a pink face on one end of it, and a mass of long trailing embroidery on the other.

Joseph Verley recoiled as far as the angle of the door would let him.

"Why—it's a baby!"

"To be sure it is," said the woman,

"and as fine a little girl as I ever saw——bless her sweet little eyes!"

"But isn't there a nurse or some such person here to take charge of it?"

"There was a nurse brought her on,

sir; a queer, foreign looking thing, with a yellow skin and hair as black as the night, and she was coming in and she talked and talked, something about the next steamer—I couldn't understand her lingo, sir—and went right back to New York on the two o'clock train."

Joseph Verley stood aghast, staring at the baby as it lay in its arms, and wondering which of his lucky stars he should call on to aid him in this unlooked-for emergency.

A full grown young lady niece would have been bad enough—but a baby!

"So this is my niece," he muttered.

"What a lovely little thing!"

He turned suddenly to the woman.

"What time does the next train for Winfield leave?"

"In an hour, sir."

"Will you be kind enough to take care of the child till then? I suppose I must take it home with me, for I can't very well drown it, or throw it under the car wheels."

And Mr. Verley turned and strode out of the depot, scarcely able, at first to comprehend the disaster that had befallen him.

The train was at the depot when he returned to the sleeping infant in her arms.

"Asleep, eh?" said Mr. Verley.

"Well, that's lucky."

"Where's the nurse, sir?" inquired the woman.

"Why, I supposed you went to get a nurse."

"Never once thought of it!" ejaculated Joseph, madly snatching his forehead, and saying to himself, "I am thirty-nine to-morrow, and that's just what I need!"

Fancy me getting married! No you don't,

Joseph Verley, my friend!

As he settled himself comfortably in the crowded railway car, and opened a letter the subject occurred to his mind with curious persistence.

"The letter of my poor brother's executor came just in time, or I should certainly have been a fooler away more time than would have been sensible or profitable. Poor dear Harold, I don't

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

SPECIAL NOTICE.—All obituaries published in this paper will be charged for at the rate of ten cents per line, money in all cases to accompany the manuscript. Original poetry inserted at three dollars per line, the money to be paid before we look at the manuscript. No deviation from either of the above rules in any case.

Beautiful, but dry weather.

Barr's Pectoral Elixir will cure your cold.

Call at Maupin & Orear's cheap store. Shoes at ten cents per pair.

Persimmons large and lucious this season.

Poissant and sweet 'tater all the go o' nights.

Dog with tin-pan to his tail the great excitement of last week.

STOP THAT COUGH—By the use of Barr's Pectoral Elixir.

The Canargo pike is black with coal wagons.

New houses going up every where.

John W. Hazellrigg is building tenement houses by the dozen.

Barr's Pectoral Elixir is good in a croup.

Trunks, cheaper than ever, at Rose & Bro's, Masonic Temple.

Col. Alf. Bowen, of Cincinnati, has been spending several days in town.

John McGiloway, D. G. W. T., installed Belvoir Lodge of Good Templars at Canargo Friday night.

For whooping cough buy for your boys a cheap overcoat at Maupin & Orear's.

J. Dinkelspiel is selling off his entire stock of clothing at prime cost.

A hunting and fishing party left town, Tuesday morning, for the mountains.

A new supply of those $17 Hunting Suits at Rose & Bro's, Masonic Temple.

J. Dinkelspiel is selling his stock of Carpets, Rugs and Window shades at cost for cash.

Be sure and price boots, shoes, hats and clothing at Maupin & Orear's before buying elsewhere, and save from 25 to 50 per cent.

Overcoats—men's, youths' and children's—for less than the price of the goods, at Rose & Bro's, Masonic Temple.

Mrs. Dillard Hazellrigg and daughter have bought the George Hazellrigg farm, two miles from town, for eight thousand dollars cash.

Mr. E. E. Garrett can be found in the Boot, Shoe and Hat House of T. F. Rogers, where he will be glad to wait on his friends.

A new and choice lot of piece goods in the Merchant Tailoring department of the Mammoth Clothing Emporium of Rose & Bro's, Masonic Temple.

J. Dinkelspiel—Trade Palace—has the largest stock of ladies' and Gents' Shoes, Boots, Hats and Caps in Eastern Kentucky; to be sold at the lowest cash prices.

The Frankfort Commonwealth persists in its charge that the Democracy of Kentucky is organized into "night riders," "Kludges," &c. The editor doubtless believes that "he is well stuck to is as good as a truth."

LABOR TURNIP.—Mrs. Albert Hoffman sent to our office on Saturday a turnip weighing 40 pounds, and ensuring 2 feet in circumference. It is a huge one, but Mrs. H. says she will send us a big one in the wagon next week.

Sir Roderick Impey Murchison, K. C. B., who died in England the other day, was celebrated as the gentleman who announced regularly every six weeks, for the last ten years, that Dr. Livingstone was slowly making his way toward Ujiji.

The private soldier, Bosoin, belonging to Company "E," 4th U. S. Infantry, stationed here, who assaulted a non-commissioned officer with a bayonet, some time ago, and who was recently court-martialed at Fort Pulaski, was sentenced to Fort Pulaski.

The Camargo neighborhood has the reputation of containing the prettiest, cleverest and smartest girls in the county. Half-a-dozen town rollers who have been Good Templarizing out that way, have left their hearts in the keeping of the glorious country girls. We have visions of weddings and cake "when the spring-time comes, gentle Annie." Good luck to the winter's courtship, say we.

A speaker at a recent meeting of the Pittsburg Woman Suffrage Association remarked that "man is only an imperfectly developed woman." At this an old lady, who sat in a corner, sprang to her feet, and in an excited manner said she "hoped to gracious he wouldn't be developed any more than she, for there were too many women in the world now."

For the memory of the late John Ridd, of Illinois, we entertain the liveliest remembrance. Mr. Ridd recently dispatched himself with a firearm for the following reasons, set forth in a letter that he left behind: "Two years ago I discovered that I was worthless. My great failings are insincerity of character and ugly notions. Any one who watched me a little while would discover my unchangeable nature." Now, it is not that Mr. Ridd was worthless that we hold his memory in remembrance; nor that he was insincere, nor ugly. It is because possessing these qualities he was fool enough to think they disqualified him for the duties of life, or stood in the way of his being an ornament to society and an honor to his country. That's what makes us deplore him.

A new and large supply of Ladies', Misses' and Children's custom-made Shoes, of every style, variety and finish, at Rose & Bro's, Masonic Temple.

A short time ago the Cynthia Democrat fiercely denounced us as traitors to the Democratic party because we were in favor of recognizing that the war had forever settled several questions that had hitherto been more vexatious than profitable. Now, it thinks the Democratic party is "played out," and goes its hog and three pigs for the Gutz Brown movement. Change appears to be written upon the face of the Democrat as well as the frontispiece of nature.

The Mayfield Eagle, the other day, told a harrowing tale of the killing of a partridge that had wandered from its native fields to take a Sunday morning stroll in the streets of Mayfield. The Eagle designated the lesser bird "Mr. Pat Ridge, a well-known father dealer." The young gentleman who belongs to the Young Men's Christian Association, parts his hair in the middle, and collars "State News" for the Louisville Ledger, swallows the ingenious story of our Mayfield contemporary as the record of a veritable murder, and reproduces it with the following introductory observations: "Savely the following outrage merits prompt investigation, and the perpetrators of the atrocious murder should meet with no mercy. The narrative reads like a story from Central Africa. That godsend bit hard."

Rose & Bro's, Masonic Temple, say what they mean and do what they say. They sell better and cheaper goods than any house in Eastern Kentucky.

We are indebted to our young friend, Bruce Young, for what may be very appropriately termed a "bunch" of corn. The "bunch" consists of fifteen separate and distinct ears growing around one central ear, all on the same stem. It is quite a curious specimen of the handiwork of Ceres.

Bishop Cummins, of the Protestant Episcopal Church, makes his annual visitation to the church at this place to-day. Services will be held in the Courthouse this evening at 7 o'clock, and to-morrow at 10 o'clock A. M., and at 7 o'clock P. M. This distinguished divine is one of the leading pulpits orators of the country, and occupies an exalted position in the councils and affections of his church. We hope all of our citizens will embrace this opportunity of hearing the eminent Bishop Cummins.

Positive and Final.

The drawing of the Louisville Library Scheme will positively take place in public on December 16th. We will sell tickets until December 1st, at which time we are compelled to close accounts with the main office. Payments of prizes will commence Tuesday, December 19. We assure every one that this arrangement is final and positive. We have received another consignment of tickets, having disposed of all the first consignment. The prices are $10 for whole ticket, $5 for half ticket, and $2.50 for quarter ticket. As the time is limited, all our friends desiring to invest in this scheme had better call upon us without delay. The distribution will be fairly and impartially conducted, under the personal supervision of the Trustees.

WILL T. HANLY, Local Agt.

The Sheriff's—Response of Mr. Greene.

EDITOR SENTINEL:—In response to "Many Voters" in your issue of last week, I beg leave to say: Open wide the door and in I come.

I have been so strongly solicited by my personal friends to become a candidate for the nomination for Sheriff, that I do not feel free to decline, and I wish to say to the voters of Montgomery county, that the intimacy existing between most of them and myself has been such that I need no further introduction, and will simply promise that that promptness and faithfulness which I feel has characterized my trading efforts shall be my aim in performing the duties of Sheriff, if elected.

The firm of Greene & Ashbrook will continue as ever, and I shall take pleasure in aiding the payment of debts, taxes, &c., by disposing of any surplus stock that my friends may have.

My deputy shall be a young man of fine qualifications—active, reliable, prompt and a Democrat from birth, and I may add candidate for matrimony.

Again, I feel that Aaron's hand serves and should have a hand in the public crib, and her people deem me a fit recipient. I beg the votes of the people, and I claim the votes of the women, because my deputy is a Woman's Rights man, and will be until after the August election.

W. N. GREENE.

Railroad Prospects and Gossip.

During a brief visit to Lexington last Monday, we took occasion to call upon Gen. Breckinridge to learn something about the condition and prospects of the railroad. The General informed us that the portion of the road lying between Lexington and Mt. Sterling is let to responsible contractors, who have obligated themselves to have it completed to this point by a day not later than the 1st of July next. Twenty-six miles of the work—from Lexington to Stoner—are let to Messrs. Bibb & Co., of Virginia, and the eight miles from Stoner to Mt. Sterling, to a Mr. Kerr. Mr. Bibb had employed six hundred negroes, at Lexington, to go to work last Monday morning, at $1.50 per day. They were to have met him out at the work Sunday morning, when he was to have had a talk with them, telling them what he should require of them and what he would do for them. Saturday evening and night the negroes organized themselves into companies of 100 men each, elected captains for each company, and Sunday morning, when Mr. Bibb and they met as per agreement, the captains informed him that they had concluded to demand $2 a day for their labor. Mr. Bibb then told them that he had no use for them.

On Monday morning he left for New York to employ Irish and Swedes for the work. Mr. Kerr has gone to West Virginia for his hands and implements, and will come through the mountains to this place with them, reaching here at an early day. There is now no longer any doubt about the road being built. Work will be commenced as soon as Mr. Kerr can come from Guyanote, W. Va., with his hands and with his forces. The contractors will not depend upon the loafing, trifling, worthless negro population of our cities and towns, therein exhibiting commendable wisdom.

We heard recently that Mr. Thos. Arnold, of Cincinnati, who has been a cripple for some time came up to Cynthia and procured from Dr. Thos. Smith several bottles of Smith's Agricultural Liniment, saying at the time that he had tried everything but found nothing that did him any good except this liniment, and he determined to stop off and get some. We have been of the opinion for some time, from what we have seen in our own county, that Dr. Smith has the best liniment in use. We have no doubt the calls at Brecken's drug store, and are satisfied that it is fast becoming the standard liniment for man and beast.

A-k your Druggist for Barr's Pectoral Elixir; if you want to keep your lungs sound.

100 Bedsteads, assorted.

20 Bureaus & wardrobes.

100 Lounges.

100 Mattresses.

SMITH & LINDSEY.

Maupin & Orear will not be undersold. Copper tips shoes at ten cents and will let you have them at five cents rather than miss a sale.

The Carlisle Mercury has at length reached the bitter conclusion that the Big Sandy railroad will be built.

What about that little conditional matter in Ohio? Things have been progressing—While Cincinnati has been poking about among legal and political abstractions—running to Congress and Columbus and Frankfort for help—the practical people of Central Kentucky, led by John C. Breckinridge, have been taking care of themselves. They have no need of Cincinnati. And that is all right—Courier-Journal.

This is what may be very properly termed a sublimated impudence. During the Southern Railroad war Cincinnati was the staunch friend and ally of Central Kentucky, while Louisville was her implacable foe. And by her bitter hostility to the E. L. & B. enterprise Louisville made war upon the best interests of Eastern Kentucky. Our people will not forget her for this. The purchase of the Louisville, Lexington and Cincinnati Shortline by the Chesapeake and Ohio Company was strategy which secures entrance into the capital city of the enemy. So far from abandoning our faithful ally, Cincinnati, and her Southern road, we intend to stand by and with them to the end. Louisville will yet find that her selfishness has cost her dear.

MISSIONARY CONVENTION.—The next quarterly meeting of the Disciples of District number 3, will be held in Mt. Sterling, Nov. 21st, at 2 P. M. in the Christian Church. A large attendance is looked for, especially from the churches in Montgomery county. The meeting will begin promptly at the hour and last two or three days. Preaching each night by ministers from a distance.

J. T. Breen has just secured another supply of Smith's Agricultural Liniment, which is so well known to the people of Montgomery county, as the very best liniment now offered to the public. Mr. Breen is the only authorized agent in Mt. Sterling, for this excellent remedy.

I. G. G. T.

Tuesday night the following gentlemen and ladies were regularly installed officers of Ebenezer Lodge, No. 344: W. Gruelle, W. C. T. Miss Jennie Carter, R. H. S. Miss Bettie Jones, H. S. Mrs. Edna Wyatt, W. V. T. B. F. Wyatt, W. C. J. F. Jones, W. S. Miss Annie Thompson, W. A. S. Ralston Hazellrigg, W. P. S. Sam Fizer, T. J. P. Thornley, W. M. Miss Mollie Storons, W. D. S. Miss C. COURTING IN NEBRASKA.

The Effect of a Scarcity of Women.

A correspondent writes the following from Nebraska to a Syracuse paper.

A party of us was duck hunting the other day on the Missouri bottoms.

Night overtook us before we were aware of it, and we were obliged to seek lodging at the first dwelling we could find.

It was a small one-story structure of three rooms, and occupied by a family of six—father, mother, daughter, and three sons.

The sons were all unmarried, and from the calls that were made afterwards we judge the daughter was unmarried also.

We hadn't been in the house five minutes when some kind of a vehicle drove up, and two young men were ushered into the parlor.

Straightway the mother and daughter held a whispered consultation, which closed with an invitation to the sitting room for supper.

It was evident the young men callers had been to tea, as they staid in the parlor with "sweet sixteen."

Scarcely had we taken our seats at the table when a howl from the girls out doors announced another caller.

He seemed to avoid the front door, and knocked at that where our party was sitting down to supper.

The mother rose to answer the summons, when we were surprised by the daughter opening the parlor door and pushing forward with, "Don't give up, mother! It's one of my fellows! Come in, Jim; how do you do?"

And Jim entered in response to the cheerful salutation. He made himself as comfortable as possible till he had finished supper, when another whispered consultation proved that the "parlor is as full as it can be," whispered by miss, in response to some motherly suggestion. The old gentleman solved the question by inviting us into the kitchen to smoke.

It was evident that Jim didn't smoke, for he remained in the sitting-room and one in the kitchen. What should be done? The courting business was getting hot.

There was another talk between mother and daughter. It was evident their devices had been exhausted. The old gentleman was called into the corner. He settled the question by a whisper, "I'll be damned if I'll move again until the sitting-room is full!"

Into the sitting room went number four and we smoked. It was full ten minutes before the next disturbance came and they entered the kitchen with the air of old acquaintances.

We looked anxiously at the host. Taking his pipe from his mouth, a single sentence relieved us: "Them's the widows! Stick!"

And we "stuck" and smoked on. For the next half an hour the girl must have been kept busy. The widowers had certainly a third of her time. It was 9 o'clock. We wished to go to bed, and the only bed we had discovered was in the parlor. The old gentleman divined our wishes, and said:
